

Environmental Health: A Position Paper of the American College of Physicians

An ACP policy paper calling for actions that would improve environmental health. The paper details policy actions that are needed to address the climate crisis and reduce exposure to hazardous substances and air and water pollution so that everyone can live, work, learn, and play in a safe, healthy environment.

Annals of Internal Medicine full text: <https://www.acpjournals.org/doi/10.7326/M22-1864>